CITY TRUSTEES.

Present—Messrs. Anderson, Cole, Watson. Mr. Watson in the chair.

The following demands were referred to the finance committee: Riggs & Sherer, job printing, $3.75; E. M. Lynch, city engineer, $100; H. M. Miller, marshal and fire chief, $75; E. R. Sinclair, street superintendent, $100; G. B. Woodberry, clerk, $50; J. M. Sprinkle, labor, streets, $78.75; J. Haines, labor, streets, $2; S. Scofield, $6; W. L. Nelson, inspecting street work, $11.25; H. M. Miller, burying dead animal, $2.

Demands 665 to 668, inclusive, previously referred to finance committee, were reported favorably.

A petition for the improvement of Seventh street between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue, signed by H. C. Ackley and fifteen others, received and placed on file. The city engineer was instructed to prepare estimate of cost of said improvement. A communication was received and placed on file, from Mrs. J. E. Edwards, in regard to Sycamore Canyon storm water and drain across Second street. The question to be taken into consideration by the board and the street superintendent.

A communication was received and placed on file, from A. H. Anderson submitting a proposition to lease premises adjoining postoffice for city hall.

An estimate of the cost of improving Orange street between Fourth street and Sixth street was received from the city engineer and filed. The engineer was instructed to prepare a resolution of intention to improve Orange street as above, under the ten-year bond act. Same action taken in regard to Seventh street between Brand boulevard and Glendale avenue.

Report of board of trustees of the city library was received and filed, and the Glendale News requested to publish a synopsis of the same. The city clerk was instructed to refer to the library board, any correspondence on file in reference to a Carnegie library. An application was received for a permit to do street work by private contract on a portion of Third street, by J. B. Cathcart. Same was allowed. Ordered that the bids for the improvement of Louise street between Second and Ninth street be opened and publicly declared.

Bids as follows were then opened and referred to the city engineer to report on at next meeting:

Lapp-Gifford Co.—Grading, 30; oiling, .01%; curb, 30; sidewalk, .10.

E. A. McCombs—Grading, 12½; oiling, .013%; curb, 22; sidewalk, .07%.

Ordered that bids for improvement of Brand boulevard from Fifth street to southerly city limits be opened and declared. Bid as follows was then declared: E. A. McCombs—Grading, 25; oiling, .02%; curb, 22.

The city engineer reported that the Childs tract estate is willing to adjust matters necessary to a complete dedication for street purposes of portions of Sixth street and Lomita avenue. The engineer was given additional time to secure the necessary dedication. On motion, the previous action of the board in approving the report of the library trustees was reconsidered, and the report referred back to the library trustees for correction of the financial portion.

(Trustee Pacher entered at 8:30.) An ordinance establishing the grade of Orange Grove avenue from Glendale avenue to Cedar street was taken up for first reading. Same was read first and second times, and passed to third reading.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution abandoning all proceedings for the improvement of Glendale avenue from Sixth street to the southerly city limits, on account of error in said proceedings. The city attorney and engineer were instructed to prepare a supplementary ordinance more clearly establishing the grade of Glendale avenue between points named above.

An ordinance concerning the establishment and conduct of business of public laundry or public wash house in the City of Glendale passed to third reading.

An ordinance establishing rules and regulations governing the trimming, pruning, care and removal of shade and ornamental trees, shrubbery and plants in and upon the streets, parks, pleasure grounds, boulevards, alleys or public places was taken up and passed to third reading.

An ordinance concerning the erection of poles in the streets and other public places in the City of Glendale was passed to third reading. The proposition to lease premises for city hall purposes in the new postoffice building was then considered, and the offer of Mr. Anderson, to lease rooms for said purpose, was accepted, provided a satisfactory lease be obtained, and the city attorney was instructed to draw up necessary ordinance. A motion passed that when adjournment take place it be to 7:30 p. m., Thursday, July 30 next.

At the special meeting held Thursday evening the only business considered was the proposition for removal of the city offices to other quarters. A communication was received from A. H. Anderson, offering quarters in the new postoffice building for $35 per month for one year, with privilege of two. The same was read and referred to the city attorney with instructions to draw up the necessary ordinance in regard to removal.

WEDNESDAY EVENING'S CONCERT.

The many music lovers of our town who missed the opportunity of attending the concert given last Wednesday evening at Masonic Hall, under the management of Miss Ina Whitaker, our local pianist, have reason to regret their failure to hear what was in some respects the best concert ever given in Glendale, and there have been some of high merit. All the promises made in reference to this concert in our last week's issue were amply fulfilled. The performance of Miss Lalla Fagge, violinist, was what could be expected of a talented young lady who has sat at the feet of such teachers as Wilhelmj and Cesar Thomson—it was simply perfect. The playing of the first number, Sarasate's "Zigeunerweisen," was a revelation to the audience of a performer in perfect accord with the instrument, and commanded a most enthusiastic encore. Miss Ethelwyn Fagge played accompaniments for her talented sister with entire sympathy and expression. Mrs. Elizabeth Fonda proved to be the possessor, as announced last week, of a voice "of unusual range and power." She sang with equal and pronounced success both contralto and soprano selections, which were heartily encored, as was indeed nearly every number on the program. Mr. Woodcock's fine tenor was heard to good advantage in selections from Italian opera and in the closing duet with Mrs. Fonda, "Neath the Stars." The program entire is given below, and every number deserves special commendation. About 100 persons were present. The performance merited a packed hall.

HARD TIMES AND THE PUBLIC HEALTH.

At a convention of undertakers, held in New England somewhere recently, there were discouraging statistics presented showing the falling off in the number of funerals during the past year. The report of the health department of the city of New York recently made shows the lowest death rate recorded in that city—14.79 per 1,000. With 130,000 more people than they had the previous year there were nine deaths less. If these figures indicate anything interesting in the way of a moral they tend to show that a period of financial depression is not a bad thing for the public health. The cases of starvation in a civilized country are very few in number, and there is not much doubt that overeating causes more deaths than a light diet. "This an ill wind that blows good to nobody."

The six-months-old St. Bernard dog belonging to H. G. Domy of Seventh and Brand Boulevard, was poisoned Tuesday afternoon. The person who administered the poison must have given it to him in his own yard, for he was never allowed off the premises. The dog was valued at $100.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING OPERATIONS.

All the dealers report an increase in the number of inquiries for property, particularly acreage, but sales are not being made in any large number. The fact is becoming apparent to all who are interested, either as buyers or holders, that acreage in this vicinity is bound to be very valuable, and there is but little of it on the market. There is one drawback to this condition of affairs, and that is that prospective settlers do not get much encouragement in their efforts to find small tracts for home building. The class of people who come to Glendale in search of from one to ten acres of land are able to pay a fair price, but naturally do not care to pay the price that may prevail a year or more hence, when, as everybody expects, there will be more doing in all lines of trade than at present.

Building operations continue in a very encouraging manner. The Logan building, on Brand boulevard, is being pushed along rapidly, the outside work being nearly completed. The new Hurt block, on Fourth street, which will be a structure about in the same class with the Logan building, is getting along as fast as brick can be laid. At North Glendale Mr. Julius Kranz has started work on a fine bungalow, located on Mountain street, near Brand boulevard. It will cost about $3,000. Huff Brothers have the contract for the job. Mr. P. Kranz will commence next to this another house of different style, costing probably a similar amount. In the Robinson tract, west of Casa Verdugo, Mr. W. A. Kirkpatrick is building a residence, to cost about $1,700. City Treasurer T. W. Doyle has begun the erection of a two-story residence on the corner of Ninth and Glendale avenue, on the Randolph tract, which will be a valuable addition to the improvements in that neighborhood.

IOWANS' SUMMER PICNIC.

Long Beach the Place—Saturday, August 8, the Date.

The Iowa Association of Southern California announces the first summer outing to be held at Long Beach, Saturday, August 8, 1908. The people of Long Beach extended an invitation to the Iowans at the time of the great annual picnic, February 22, at East Lake Park and the officers have decided to accept the invitation.

Every former resident of Iowa with family and friends is invited to join in this reunion. The object is simply to have a grand good time; to meet old friends and talk over old times. Free band music will be furnished by Long Beach and tables will be provided for the thousands. A new badge will be sold and each one wearing it will have coffee furnished free. Bring your own picnic lunches and put up enough for a friend also. Further details will be announced later. Further information may be obtained from the secretary, C. H. Parsons, Artesia, Cal.

SUNLAND SANITARIUM AND ITS PROPRIETOR IN TROUBLE.

Before Justice Melrose at Tropico, last Wednesday, Attorney Bennett, acting for the State Medical Board, swore out a warrant for the arrest of "Dr." Nunn who for some months past has been running a sanitarium at Sunland, in the mountains between Burbank and San Fernando. Like a good many of the other concerns which pretend to be working to alleviate the distresses of humanity, it would seem, judging from an account in the Los Angeles Times, that Dr. Nunn does not give value for money received. An unfortunate consumptive paid $450 and another victim $800 for the privilege of getting a patent serum injected under their shoulder blades and swallowing some nauseating compound which failed to work good results. Pending the trial the Sunland Sanitarium is closed.

OLD SETTLERS' PICNIC.

The Old Settlers will hold their second annual picnic at Echo Park on the fourth Saturday (the 22d) in August. At the gathering in the same place last year a committee, consisting of Mrs. Mary A. Ayers, Mrs. E. D. Goode, Mrs. Robert Devine, Mrs. S. A. Ayres and Mr. B. F. Patterson, was appointed to make arrangements for this year's meeting. The committee has selected the above date for the annual gathering, and other details will be given later. Some special invitations will be sent out, but the invitation to participate is very general, and excludes nobody, although it is especially desired that all old settlers will be present.

Mr. C. R. Tarling left Thursday for Santa Marguerita, in San Luis Obispo county, to be gone a few days.

Mr. J. H. Wells and son James are off among the mountains of Orange county in search of ozone and things.

Bank Examiner Gatch visited the First National Bank one day last week, finding everything in satisfactory condition.

Mr. C. R. Tarling and Captain N. H. Palmer made the round trip to and from Catalina Sunday last, greatly enjoying the voyage.

Mr. Simeon Grant, city trustee, left Wednesday evening for a six weeks' visit to his old home in Northeastern Nebraska.

Mr. F. W. McIntyre is recovering from a severe sprain in the foot, which necessitated the use of a crutch for a short time.

Mrs. Willis A. Norton left on Thursday for her cottage at Redondo, where she will give a house party in honor of her niece, Miss Florence Davidson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wood of Sixth and Orange streets have been entertaining during the past week a brother and sister of Mr. Wood from Arizona.

Dr. Tufts, the osteopath, has a branch office at his home on Louise street north of First. Hours by appointment only. Sunset 804. 4w14

Mabel Lewis Case has recently arrived from Chicago, where she has been a member of the faculty of the Chicago Musical college for the past six years.

At the Methodist church next Sabbath the Pastor will preach. Subject, "The True Church," at 11 a. m. Subject for the evening, "The Cleansing Fountain."

At the Baptist church next Sunday the Rev. Ernest Chick, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Willows, Cal., will preach both morning and evening. Come and worship with us.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald gave a whist party at their residence on Fifth street, near Central avenue, last Tuesday evening. About twenty were present, and the evening was greatly enjoyed by all participating.

The Glendale Country Club gives a "Shirt Waist" dance this evening. The invitations state that it is to be strictly informal, and it is understood that he members have made a great rush on bargain counters during the past week for the necessary equipment.

Mabelle Lewis Case, pianiste graduate and post graduate of Chicago Musical College, who later studied abroad with Barth in Berlin, will teach in Glendale on Tuesday and Friday of each week. Can be interviewed at Hotel Woods from 2 until 4 p. m. on those days. Terms $1.00 per lesson.

Mrs. S. L. Ward and children, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Nichols and family and Mr. Nichols' mother are spending a week or more at "The Terrace," La Crescenta. Mr. J. N. Witham and Mr. Samuel Fiske also went up on Thursday. Mrs. Witham to spend the day and Mr. Fiske to stay over Sunday.

There will be a special musical service at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening next. Prof. Earl Bishop Valentine will play a violin solo, "Flower Song," by Lang. The choir will sing "He Leadeth Me," with a soprano obligato by Miss Harris. These musical Sunday evenings are gradually becoming appreciated.

Mr. Dickson of Coon Rapids, Iowa, President of the First National Bank of that place, visited Glendale for the second time Wednesday last. He was so well pleased with his visit that he obtained an option on a valuable piece of real estate here, which he will probably purchase. Mr. Dickson has spent several weeks in Southern California.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Williams left Wednesday for several days' outing at Balboa Beach. Mr. Williams has been spending a portion of a well-earned vacation at his Glendale home during the last week, and intimates that as the man with the hoe and shovel and things, and as a carpenter, under the management of a capable wife, he is a striking example of the strenuous life.

Trustee Watson has returned from the trip he and his family made to the San Bernardino mountains. They went up back of Redlands, and attained an elevation of 8,000 feet. Mr. Watson then concluded to come back to Glendale and make a little more sure of his halo before aspiring to any loftier elevation. He looks sunburned and rugged and in every way fit to hold down his position as premier of Mayor Pacher's cabinet.

Dr. A. L. Bryan has been missing from his accustomed haunts for several days, and while speculation was rife as to his whereabouts, the Los Angeles Examiner printed a story to the effect that the doctor has been awarded a gold medal for catching the biggest fish in the ocean, or something of that sort. Being a fish story, and an Examiner story also, we make the announcement with reservations, but if the doctor comes home with the fish we will no longer be skeptical.

The Rev. J. H. Chase of Burbank will fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church the morning of next Sabbath, in exchange with the pastor. The pastor will preach in the evening a short sermon on "Why everyone should be a Christian." The song service begins at 7:45, with the orchestra and chorus choir. Come and enjoy this service. The regular meetings of the Presbyterian Brotherhood will be omitted for August, owing to the absence of so many from the city.

Mr. E. S. Comstock, who left Glendale just a month ago, and has spent the time since then in Boston, New York and other Eastern cities, returned home to Glendale Tuesday evening, having left Boston Thursday evening previous, spending thirteen hours in Chicago en route home. Although pleased to be at home again, Mr. Comstock reports having had a pleasant time during his absence, enjoying particularly the visit to familiar New England scenes. He reports noticeable improvement in business conditions, and quotes high authority as expressive of the idea that an era of great prosperity is just ahead in the business world.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ENJOINED.

A Taxpayer Objects to Their Awarding the Contract for New School House to Other Than the Lowest Bidder.

Mr. L. A. Monroe started the legal machine in operation, and the result was that the local school board has been enjoined from awarding the contract for the building of the new public school building to Mr. Anderson. As announced in last week's issue, the trustees had two bids on the job, one from Mr. Gribbling of Los Angeles for $9,446, and one from a local contractor, Mr. A. H. Anderson, for $9,875. The members of the board, believing that they were allowed by law the privilege of rejecting any and all bids, used their discretion and favored the local bidder. The case comes up just before we go to press, and we expect to be able to announce the decision later. There are a number of things to be taken into consideration in this matter, and a natural difference of opinion among the taxpayers in regard to it. There are those who think that $429 is too great a sum to pay for the sake of favoring home contractors. Others argue that the circumstances of the case are such that this additional sum would be well spent, as it would insure a better building than can be expected from a non-resident contractor.

CALIFORNIA SARDINES.

It is not generally known that on San Pedro Bay is located the only cannery of genuine sardines in oil put up in the United States. The small fish put up at various canneries on the Eastern coast are not to be confounded with the sardines that are caught along the Southern coast of California.

Professor David Starr Jordan, President of Leland Stanford Junior University, writes of the California fish: "This species is everywhere known as the sardine, or by the Italians as 'Sardine.' It is, in fact, almost identical with the sardine of Europe." The California sardine packing industry can hardly be considered a new business for the state, although practically the entire pack is put up by one concern, the California Fish Co., San Pedro and Los Angeles, Cal.

Notice to Glendale Library Patrons

The Glendale Public Library is open to the public on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from one to six o'clock. MRS. J. C. DANFORD, Librarian.

THE BOND ELECTION.

A Big Vote Polled—A Handsome Majority in Favor of the Bond Issue in This Precinct.

The interest in the bond election on Thursday was very general, and the vote polled was larger than anticipated except by the most enthusiastic workers. The votes began to come in early, and over 100 had been polled by noon. There was very little opposition expressed, and the count showed very little existing. The yellow pennants furnished by the Good Roads committee were everywhere in evidence, and the supply was exhausted long before the demand was satisfied. Every driver of a vehicle wanted one to hoist, for the purpose of showing his loyalty to the project. The count in Glendale precinct was 193 for and 20 against.

In Tropico the vote was 165 for and 13 against.

THE EAST SIDE RAILROAD.

The atmosphere in regard to this project has cleared up greatly during the past week. The opponents of the enterprise, who withheld their consent to the right of way desired along Third street, met with their lawyer, Judge A. M. Stephens, and the promoters of the enterprise, and an agreement was reached, which promises to remove the last obstacle to the road. In a week or two the necessary legal advertising will be completed, and it is expected that further details will be worked out very quickly, as only one property holder has been discovered in the neighborhood of the section most directly concerned who objects to the road. This enviable individual has everything he wants in the way of railroads, and is impervious to arguments which generally influence the average mortal.

OUR BATTLESHIP FLAGS.

I warrant that there is not one of you who can guess where the flags for our navy are made. The place is the Brooklyn navy yard, where forty people are kept constantly busy making our own ensigns, the signal flags and the flags of foreign nations used on our own ships in giving salutes. The number of flags required for a single vessel may be realized when you are told that those for the Connecticut alone made a pile five feet high and fifteen feet long. There were 250 flags. It is an interesting reminder that women have been needed ever since the time of Betsy Ross in making flags, when we are told that this yard employs one who has the unique official title of Quarterwoman Flagmaker. So there is at least a quarter of a woman who is a naval officer!

The largest flag made is 36 feet by 19 and costs $40 to manufacture.

Many of you know that today our flag changes, probably for the next to the last time. Oklahoma's star makes the forty-sixth, and as there are but two more territories upon our national mainland, there will finally be forty-eight stars. The new arrangement is as follows: top row, eight stars; second row, seven; third, eight; fourth, eight; fifth, seven; sixth, eight.—Congressionalist.

The "Made in California" Exhibit and Salesroom, 214 Mercantile place, Los Angeles, is enjoying a continuous and healthy growth. Many new exhibits have been added and a great number of leading firms and manufacturers are now represented therein. Its success is due to a great extent to the fact that it is not simply an exhibit where people enter in and out again, receiving little attention, but rather a regular salesroom for the purpose of furthering California products and taking orders for the same.

It is in charge of a first-class salesman of large business experience. Each and everyone who calls there has the various products thoroughly explained, and a sincere effort is put forth to secure orders.

THE WAVE MOTOR.

After much experimenting, the scheme for utilizing the hitherto wasted force of the ocean waves, seems to have been worked out to such an extent as to promise success in the near future. The Marine Power and Electric Company of Los Angeles expects in a short time to be able from their plant near the long wharf at Santa Monica to furnish electric power for lighting purposes and for the cars of the Los Angeles Pacific Railway company. The corporation is offering stock for sale, Messrs. Lawson and Chandler being agents in Glendale.

Elimination of Southern Pacific Railroad domination in public affairs
Opposed to race track gambling

GLENDAL, CAL., AUGUST 1, 1908

The vote of Glendale on the Good Roads proposition was creditable to our community. We hope that even the minority of twenty recorded against it are not entirely irreconcilable.

Tropico came in a good second to Glendale on the Good Roads vote. But there was the faithful thirteen recorded against it.

The News owes, and hereby renders to Mr. Stem of Tropico, a proper apology for our error in stating in our last issue that he offered a Parker resolution at the Tropico meeting of the Lincoln-Roosevelters last week. We should have reported that the resolution was offered by Mr. E. S. Shank, who alone is entitled to the credit and the full and undiminished glory of the performance.

Mr. Bryan, who has been insisting that there should be a publication of the funds contributed for campaign purposes, and the details of their expenditure, has carefully selected his treasurer from the state of Oklahoma, where there is no law requiring such publication. The treasurer of the Republican committee resides in the state of New York, where the law requires full publicity. This fact illustrates clearly the difference in the two candidates. One talks, the other acts.

"The root of every social and public evil lies within the reach of every individual who is intelligent enough to know the difference between a vice and a virtue. The only effective work which we can do must be done within the narrow range of personal influence. To neglect home duties and the opportunities which lie at hand, to attack persons and corporations over which we have no influence and which we cannot reach, is to grasp the shadow and lose the substance of virtuous action."—Christian Register.

Work is about to begin on the improvement of Adams street, but we regret to see that old settler, the moth-eaten henry, still jutting out into the highway on the corner of Third street.

Speaking of highways, Glendale avenue north of First street should be improved at once, not only to the city limits, but northward to its junction with Verdugo road. This is the direct road from Glendale to La Crescenta and La Canyada, and its condition is such as to actually turn trade away from our Glendale merchants.

"Taft Republicans"

The Los Angeles Times, and presumably some others, are talking about "Taft Republicans," as if the woods were full of some other kind. Uninformed readers are left to infer that the Times was for Taft "first, last and all the time," but a look through the files of that paper will hardly bear up this idea. Anyone who will take the trouble to look through the editorial columns of that paper need not go back many months to find the first editorial utterance in favor of Mr. Taft. The Times did not support his candidacy for the presidential nomination until a comparatively recent date, not, indeed, until the prospects for his nomination had become almost a certainty. The Los Angeles Times has never been in the habit of striking "keynotes." It falls in dutifully when the order is passed along the line, but in matters of national import it has never been a leader. As long ago as the middle "90s," when the free silver fallacy was running its baleful course, and the California Republicans were putting soft money planks into their platforms, the Times kept for months conservatively on the fence, waiting to see what the outcome of it all would be. It came down on the right side at last, but the process of making up its alleged mind was apparently slow and painful. The position of Mr. Taft in regard to the tariff, as expressed by him some two years or so ago, was at variance with the "stand pat" principles of President Roosevelt himself, and antagonistic to the views entertained as to its sacredness by the Los Angeles Times and other representatives of the conservative element, and he won the support of that wing of the party, not because of his ideas in regard to the tariff, but in spite of them. The Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League has always consistently supported Mr. Taft, and that the comparatively new converts to the ranks of his supporters should by inuendo seek to cast discreditable reflections upon the members of that organization is an exhibition of smallness that betokens a mind diseased.

Too Much Politics

A friend of The News intimates ever so gently that possibly we are devoting too much space to politics nowadays. But our only regret in regard to the matter is that we are not able to devote more of our space and attention to this most vital subject. For a few weeks to come we shall be compelled to speak plainly and frequently upon political subjects. Mr. Herrin, the political agent of the Southern Pacific, said a few weeks ago that "popular government in California is a fraud." And there is too much truth in his assertion to permit of its being passed by unnoticed. The founders of our government gave us a political system based upon the supposition that the mass of the people would do their political duty. There is nothing serious the matter with the system, but it works out a very imperfect result, because the majority of our citizens do not pay the attention to politics which they should. There never was a piece of machinery so perfect that it could long be trusted to do its work without the oversight of some directing mind, and the machinery of government is no more automatic than the finished product of steel or brass. We may change laws, and even systems of government, but in the end the result will be just what the people make it. The most of our people turn their attention to politics periodically, while the man who makes it his business, who follows it for a profession, is at it all the time, knows the points of the game, and fixes up the cards for the average voter, who fondly fancies that he knows how to play. Very often the duty of the voter is difficult on account of a similarity of issues represented by different parties or the apparently well-balanced individual points of opposing candidates. At present, however, there is an issue before the people of California that is distinct and unmistakable. The fact that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company has for many years controlled the political affairs of this state, and has for some years past done this through an oligarchy within the Republican party, is practically undisputed. If disputed, the record is attainable to prove the statement. An organization within the party, known as the Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League, is endeavoring to right this wrong. It is a practical movement for reform within the party. The old organization asserts that this league is a combination of disappointed office-seekers, but the assertion cannot be maintained by any manner of proof. Some of the league members are quite possibly self-seekers, being human, but at the head of it are men whose reputations are generally too well established to make any such assertion reasonable. The voter who desires to do his full duty should at least make some sincere effort to ascertain the facts in regard to the contest, and not excuse himself from playing the citizen's part by any cheap and shallow assertions impugning the motives of the leaders of this movement. Some of the candidates have been named, for whom support will be asked at the primary election on August 11. Their records should be investigated, for there is not often put before the voters so clear-cut an issue.

The city marshal took down to Judge Melrose at Tropico, the other morning, a trio of small melon thieves, who are alleged to have destroyed and stolen several dollars' worth of melons in the patch belonging to Sam Read, north of town. The judge put the youngsters on probation for thirty days.

A PUBLIC PARK FOR GLENDALE.

Editor News: In reply to your invitation for an expression of opinion concerning a public park for our city, I wish to say I am opposed to the idea of having one park only; but I am in favor of a number of small parks, in different parts of our city. My reasons are these: First—We do not need a large park in our city for purposes of congregation, for picnics and for recreation; and, if we did, land is already so high-priced in the center of our city as to make our people unwilling to buy it for such a purpose. We have the fine Verdugo park, just north of us, an ideal place for the purposes before spoken of, and no doubt easily available to all who wish to make a proper use of it. Then there are Sycamore, Canyon and Scholl's Canyon, also available. Another point is that a public park in the center of our city would be so far away from the people who live on the outskirts that they would feel that it would be of very little interest or use to them, and the charge would be made that it is only a scheme to benefit the center of the town and a few designing individuals who own property there. My idea is that it would be far better, and that it would command the favor of a far larger proportion of our voters, to establish and maintain at public expense a number of small parks—beauty places—in different sections of our city. Plant a few trees and shrubs and flowers, and make a pretty piece of lawn, and covered walks, and take care of them as they should be, and place seats among the shrubbery, where the neighbors and the passers-by can rest their weary limbs and bid their souls to loaf and take their ease, to the tinkling of waters and the song of birds. This might not be as grand as a big central park, but it would be far more pleasing and beneficial to all. I would suggest, by way of illustration, such a place of beauty and rest on Glendale avenue between Third and Fourth streets, about three or four, or beauty places in some places even five lots in size—two would be better than one or none. Then let there be another over Verdugo way, where the neighbors over there think best; another down near the boulevard, another down in the southern part of the city, and elsewhere where there seems to be a demand for it. It would be very nice, of course, if some public-spirited person or persons, who also happen to be able to do it, should contribute a little plot of ground, or several of them, or the price thereof, for such a purpose, or if a number of persons would combine—the people in a neighborhood, for instance—and offer the city such a plot, or even offer to pay part of the price if the city would do the rest. But if this is not to be, I should favor the city's calling a bond election—providing, of course, it were first ascertained that our people generally were in favor of the project—for a park system of the kind I have suggested. Such a system, properly carried out, would give an added charm to Glendale, would add to property value in the neighborhood, and so form a strictly "business" point of view. I do not think it would be money wasted, and, as you have said, there will probably be no time when it can be so inexpensively done as now. It will not be an extravagance, but, I believe, a wise investment.

EDGAR LEAVITT.

FIRST ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE GLENDALE LIBRARY.

The Public Library trustees have submitted to the city trustees their first annual report, of which the following is a synopsis:
Mrs. Danford, the librarian, is commended for the good work she has performed.

The funds have been so carefully managed that the appropriation for the year just ended is not quite exhausted. A representative of the board attended the district library meeting at San Diego and the librarian visited once during the year the library at Monrovia for the purpose of gathering notes as to details of the work.

Over 100 books and magazines have been contributed to the library during the year by friends of the institution. The continued use of the state traveling library and of the Church Periodical Club Library of the Episcopal Diocese continue to add value to the library.

CORRECTION.

It appears that the society reporter of the News was in error in our last issue in stating that the supper at Woods Hotel on the previous Thursday evening was given by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bullis. While liable to do that sort of thing at any time, Mr. and Mrs. Bullis were, on the occasion alluded to, only guests, the host and hostess being Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal.

THE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH.

The lot presented to the church by Mrs. Childs, containing one acre of ground, is located on Seventh street, and would be on the corner of Cedar if that street was cut through. It runs back half the depth of the block, and the structure now in course of erection, being intended for temporary use—that is, for a year or two—is located on the extreme rear of the lot, leaving room on the Seventh street front for the permanent structure, which will no doubt follow in a comparatively short time. The dimensions of the building are 34 by 76 feet, height to square 18 feet, and to the top of the spire 75 feet. At the entrance is a gallery, raised about two feet above the general level of the floor, its dimensions being 14 by 34 feet. This faces the altar, and leaves a good sized auditorium after a pastor's study has been provided for. The cost, exclusive of furniture, will be about $1,800, and it is to be completed about Sept. 1st.

CITIZENS OF TROPICO ORGANIZED FOR FIRE PROTECTION.

After having witnessed the destruction of two of its best residences by fire in the past year, the residents of Tropic have organized a volunteer fire association. At an adjourned meeting of this association, held in Logan's Hall, Monday evening, reports of committees at work on details, report rapid progress toward completion of their work. The Association is considering the purchase of two or three 50-gallon chemical extinguishers on trucks with two-inch fire hose and other necessary apparatus, to be stationed at different parts of the town. The territory to be covered will be divided into nine districts. The whistle of the Western Art Tile Works will be used as an alarm. The subscription committee reported having $350 subscribed with about two-thirds of the territory canvassed. The association desires to raise $1000, and earnestly request the citizens take an active interest in the enterprise. If the desired amount can be raised for the purchase of chemicals considered by the committee, Tropic will have the best fire protection of any town in Los Angeles county. Get hold of the rope and help pull.

GEORGE BALLANTYNE INJURED.

George Ballantyne, a mechanic at the box factory, located near the Southern Pacific railway, met with a most painful accident Tuesday morning, while in the performance of his duties at the factory.

Mr. Ballantyne was caught in the shafting and ere the machinery could be stopped had made two revolutions. The horrified workmen rushed to Mr. Ballantyne's assistance, expecting to find their fellow workman badly crushed, marveling that a painful death had not been his fate, from the nature of the accident.

Mr. Ballantyne suffered a dislocated shoulder, a sprained back and a badly lacerated lower lip, with other minor injuries. An ambulance was summoned and the unfortunate man hurried to the Glendale Sanatorium, where medical attention soon alleviated his sufferings. Mr. Ballantyne, with his wife and children, have come but recently from Kansas, and are residing on Glendale avenue.

Nature of Light—Ether. I.

One of the greatest of those wonders which surround us on all sides is light, yet so familiar have we become to its appearance in common with most other natural phenomena that few of us duly appreciate its marvelous character.

Our main source of light, the sun, is about 93 million miles away, and while there is no doubt at all that light, whatever its nature may be, does really originate in the sun, there is still some doubt as to what light is, and how it is conveyed or transmitted to us from the central luminary.

In the time of Sir Isaac Newton it was believed that light consisted of minute particles of almost imponderable matter which were supposed to be constantly darted from the sun in all directions.

This was called the corpuscular or emission theory, and having had the support of the great philosopher, held the field for a hundred years. Yet the most delicate balance which is turned by placing a hair on it, is quite unaffected by the impact of a beam of light direct from the sun, although moving with the astounding velocity of 186,000 miles a second.

By reason of its failure to explain many of the phenomena of light the corpuscular theory was found to be inadequate and untenable, and was abandoned about the beginning of last century in favor of what is known as the undulatory theory. This modern guess at one of nature's profound secrets supposes that waves or undulations are set up by the sun or any luminous body, and propagated outward in all directions. This movement is held to be exactly analogous to the undulations of the atmosphere which produce sound. The simplest form of undulation is that produced by a stone thrown into a vessel of still water, a wave or undulation is seen to spread from the center of disturbance. Now each of these phenomena—the sound and the water wave—consist of the undulations of a medium. It is evident that if there were no water, there could be no wave, and also without atmosphere there could be no sound. What is the medium whose undulations produce light? It certainly cannot be the atmosphere, which does not extend, at the utmost, more than 150 miles above the earth.

The sun is a glowing mass of incandescent gas. We see and feel its energy even at the tremendous distance of 93 million miles; therefore there must be a medium of some sort between the earth and the sun. This introduces us to the problem of action at a distance, for we cannot conceive of a body acting where it is not, except through a medium. What is there in the apparently empty space to convey the cheering beams to us? And not only from the sun, but also from the immeasurably distant stars? In this necessity scientific imagination has risen to one of its highest flights in the conception of the undulatory theory, which requires us to believe that interplanetary and interstellar space is not empty as heretofore supposed, but filled with a subtle medium to which the name of ether has been given. It is an amazing assumption, for none of our five senses, even when assisted by instruments of the most delicate refinement, yield the slightest evidence of its existence. But in the evolution of the human race a new sense appears to be developing, which may be termed the intellect, comprising in one idea perception, reason and judgment. It is to this wonderful faculty that the unseen universe appeals. The assumed properties of this mysterious ether are absolute transparency, imponderability, all-pervasiveness and extreme rigidity, and the only evidence we have of its existence lies in the appeal it makes to our reason in the perfect explanation it affords to all the phenomena of light. Not merely are the laws of reflection and refraction in agreement with the theory of ether, but the curious and complicated phenomena of interference, diffraction and polarization are explained by it to the minutest particular. And to those who are acquainted with both the theory and the phenomena these exact agreements carry the certain conviction that the theory must, of necessity, be true to nature. We must also assume that the ether pervades not only all space, but likewise, all substances.

For light passes through glass, water and other transparent substances, and it is certainly not the vibration of these substances which produces the light seen in them, but the vibrations of the ether existing in the interstices between the molecules of those substances. It may seem strange to think of ether pervading such a solid material as glass, but if ether can be called a substance at all, it must be totally unlike any of the gross substances with which we are familiar. But owing to the fact that none of our senses give us any evidence of it, we know very little of its nature. There are probably many real existences of which, owing to the limitations of our senses we can have no cognizance. We are assisted to a comprehension of this possibility by considering the case of a person born blind or deaf who could have no conception of sight or hearing. Sight and hearing are nevertheless facts of nature just the same, and we may imagine beings endowed with more than five senses, able to perceive other existences which to us are as absolutely non-existent. The perception of the existence of the luminiferous ether seems to bring us almost to the bounds of the spiritual world, and opens up an unending vista of possibilities beyond this life of time and space, which we may realize hereafter "in the life of the world to come."
